REGIONAL CONCERT

The Regional Symphonic Band under the direction of John Pandolphi will present their second concert of the season on Sunday afternoon, March 7th. The concert will be in conjunction with the Regional Chorus, directed by Zavan Mazmanian. The program will be virtually the same one they were scheduled to have presented January 17.

Sponsors will be interested to know that the Directors of the Band have also voted to have the group give a third (previously unscheduled) performance in the spring. This will take the place of the once cancelled for reasons of inclement weather. They hope to do an evening concert late in April.

IWO JIMA DAY OBSERVED

This past Friday marked the 20th anniversary of the United States Marine Corps landing on the island of Iwo Jima that took place on February 19, 1945. In commemoration of this event, the Governor of Massachusetts, John A. Volpe, in a proclamation, proclaimed this day as "Iwo Jima Day" throughout the Commonwealth. To further commemorate the occasion, the Governor and his party participated in a flag raising ceremony at the State Capitol which was conducted by members of the New Bedford detachment of the Marine Corps League. These ex-Marines consisted of veterans that actually made the landing on Iwo Jima 20 years ago. They are Lionel Charbonneau, 36 Hamlin Street, Acushnet; Joseph Guilbeault, 257 Belleville Avenue, New Bedford; William Morris, 8 Carnegie Street, North Dartmouth; and Harrison Grimm, recently retired and a former recruiter in the New Bedford area.

To indicate the importance of the Iwo Jima battle to the United States, the following information will be of interest: The Japanese Government had been preparing this island for over twenty years and it took the United States Marines, with Naval gunfire support, 26 days to
